ADOBE ACROBAT/FILE PREP GD-216/316

Instructor: Kevin Sadler
9:00 am - 12:00 pm

Adobe Acrobat has taken a more primary role in the Graphics industry, and its distribution methods vary (print, web, static or interactive). Students will gain a better understanding of how industry-standard programs create PDF files. On the job, when it comes time to create or edit the pdf for proofing, printing or uploading purposes, you'll be able to take care of business and move on to your next challenge.

STAINED GLASS FA-252/352

Instructor: Dolores Brink
9:00 am - 12:00 pm

An introductory course in stained glass design. Students will design, draw, cut, tape and solder stained glass in the copper foil technique. Advanced students will be encouraged to design and create more intricate and complex 2-D and 3-D projects using traditional and modern techniques.

ADVANCED DRAWING FA-280/380

Instructor: Edward Wetzel
9:00 am - 12:00 pm

Focus on personal visual concepts in image-making in a work-shop type atmosphere. The course will examine drawing as an act of producing independent works of art. Instruction will reinforce the formal elements of art such as line, space, shape, form, texture, composition and expression. Materials will include pencil, charcoal, pen & ink, scratch board among others.

DYNAMIC STARTS AND STRUCTURAL FIGURE DRAWING FA-268/368

Instructor: Monica Baumann
9:00 am - 12:00 pm

For beginning and intermediate students, learn methods of starting paintings or drawings more successfully. Using varying short poses, the early fundamentals of drawing and painting, human proportion, creating vitality of gesture and developing an eye for design, will be thoroughly addressed. Additionally, we will investigate the human figure in its structural, rhythmic sense and assist in how to view a finishing game differently by focusing on topographic, rhythmic lines and forms.

DESIGN I FD-103

Instructor: Kat Block
9:00 am - 12:00 pm

An introduction to the fundamental design concepts, focusing on problem solving with the basic elements of line, shape, pattern, rhythm, color, texture and volume. Students will learn the varied properties and qualities of each element as applied to the development of 2D and 3D solutions in visual art.

PERSPECTIVE FD-104

Instructor: Ed Wetzel
1:00 pm - 4:00 pm

A concentrated study of the principles of perspective used in representing the three-dimensional world. Elements of mechanical 1- & 2-point perspective using the T-square, triangle and rulers are covered. The principles of freehand perspective are then applied to the development of images from both imagination and observation.

ADOBE PHOTOSHOP GD-214/314

Instructor: Kevin Sadler
1:00 pm - 4:00 pm

This course is designed to teach the basics through advanced techniques of Adobe Photoshop with discussions and hands-on step-by-step projects. The students will cover the most job-oriented features of Photoshop as they create attractive and practical images for use in graphic design and illustration.

HISTORY OF ART I/II FA-260/360

Fall Term: Pre-Historic through Gothic
Spring Term: Renaissance thru 19th Century

Instructor: Jorge Larrea
1:00 pm - 4:00 pm

This course is a survey of the history of art covering the major periods, styles and artists from pre-historic through modern time. The class format will consist of lectures, the use of audio/visual aids, student participation and museum tours.

MODELING THE FIGURE IN CLAY FA-226/326

Instructor: Frank Falotico
6:30 pm - 9:30 pm

A basic exploration of the human form through modeling in clay. Students gain the ability to accomplish a stylized representation of the figure through the application of anatomy, form concepts, proportions, structure, composition and design. There will be an emphasis on mold making and casting.

JEWELRY DESIGN FA-205/305E

Instructor: Lawrence Gove
6:30 pm - 9:30 pm

Basic design and fabrication of jewelry in sterling silver with semi-precious gem stones. The course will cover use of hand tools, sawing, filing, soldering, drilling, polishing, assembling rings and pendants with bezel and prong settings. Shop safety and use of torches, polishing machines, ultrasonic and steam cleaning will be covered.

ADVANCED ILLUSTRATION IL-345E

Instructor: Peter Caras
6:30 pm - 9:30 pm

For the more experienced artist with a clear understanding of drawing and painting, concentration on more complex problems such as pictorial composition, focal points, etc. Must have knowledge of painting system.

ADOBE ILLUSTRATOR GD-212/312E

Instructor: Kevin Sadler
6:30 pm - 9:30 pm

Covers basic tools and more advanced features of the program including filters and masks, creating and altering patterns to create logos, graphics and other 2-dimensional art. Cross-program integration covered.

CREATE YOUR INNER VISION FA-264/364E

Instructor: Jorge Larrea
6:30 pm - 9:30 pm

This course focuses on the creative process itself. Students are encouraged to explore freely with their own personal imagery and with the various techniques and media in order to create artworks that are original and meaningful to them. There is an emphasis on the application of the principles of design so that all artwork produced in class may be aesthetically pleasing, mature and professional.

DIGITAL PHOTOGRAPHY II PH-270

Instructor: Susan Meyer
9:00 am - 12:00 pm

Concentration is on advanced studio and environmental portraits. More detail will be given to the use of props and colored gels in lighting effects and set design. Students will seek out a real client to run a photo shoot as part of their final portfolio project. This course will run from the fall and continue into the spring semester.

COLOR I FD-120

Instructor: Bonnie Kubiak
9:00 am - 12:00 pm

The study of color, its characteristics and interactions. Students are acquainted with basic properties of color identification, creation and modification of hue, value and strength, while mastering color mixing. Then, emphasis is placed on the study and application of color theory and systems to achieve desired effects in visual communication.

ACADEMY FIGURE DRAWING FA-255/355

Instructor: Paul Casale
9:00 am - 12:00 pm, Tues & Wed
